

30,000-POUND CANNON GOING BEGGING IN MAINE

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Would you like to get a cheap 30,000-pound gun for your small son to play with?

Nineteen civil war cannons, ranging from fifteen to sixteen inches and weighing from 30,000 to 50,000 pounds, are going begging at Bangor, Me.

The Ordnance Department has tried in vain to sell them, and has finally taken to offering them to cities and towns. Thus far there have been nothing but rejections with thanks. The guns are located at Fort Knox, not far from Bangor. There has never been a shot fired "in anger" from any of them.

THE ROYAL BLOOD and governments of Europe are watching with interest and anxiety the outcome of the reported engagements of former Crown Prince George of Greece to Princess Elizabeth of Rumania, and that of Crown Prince Charles of Rumania to Princess Helen of Greece. Cable dispatches from abroad quote the allied governments of Europe to be very much opposed to the proposed matches.

ENGLISH BUTLER DOOMED BY PRESSURE OF PRICES

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The famous English butler is doomed. An investigation in Mayfair and Belgrave shows that under the present pressure of prices and taxation the leading families of the country are dispensing altogether with men servants, or at least are retaining only venerable butlers who have done lifelong service in one family.

Prince Carol May Wed Noted Grecian Beauty Against Allies Wishes

By C. F. BERTELLI.
Universal Service.

GENEVA, Nov. 21.—The Odyssey of Prince Carol of Rumania in his search for a bride, during which he traveled completely around the world, is ended.

Interviewed at the National Hotel in Lucerne today, the prince refused to deny any suggestion that he is engaged to marry Helene, the most beautiful of Greek princesses, with whom he is seen daily strolling along the promenade or sailing on the famous lake. He merely said in reply to my direct question:

"It is a trifle premature."

EARLY MARRIAGE LOOMS.

Thus the Greek and Rumanian royal houses will be doubly united, for the marriage of the Duke of Sparta, former crown prince, but who yet may be King of Greece, to the Princess Elizabeth of Rumania is scheduled for the early spring in Bucharest.

Prince Carol's move is believed here to be a shrewd stroke on the part of Queen Marie of Rumania, who hopes thereby to weaken the allied resistance to her future son-in-law, the Duke of Sparta, ascending the throne at Athens.

I used Prince Carol his view of the recent Greek elections wherein Premier Venizelos was so definitely overthrown and the monarchistic tendencies revealed.

SURPRISED AT ELECTION.

"While I was intensely surprised at the large Greek majority in favor of King Constantine," said the prince, "I hope now that the great powers will not burden themselves with a Grecian question by forbidding the King to return to his country."

Answering my further question: "Is it true that you journeyed to America in search of a wife?" the prince replied gallantly:

"The American ladies were very charming, but unfortunately my visit was so hurried that I was unable to become intimate with any of them."

WILL RETURN TO AMERICA.

"However, I hope to make another trip to the United States, when I certainly will rectify that omission."

The principle of the revisions of peace treaties is being urgently discussed between London and Paris in connection with the events in Greece, according to the reports here today.

King Constantine is reported to have notified the allies that he will accept and follow the same foreign policies that were pursued by former Premier Venizelos, on the condition, however, that the entente extend to him the same economic, financial and military aid they gave to the fallen dictator.

The entente, therefore, is faced with the alternative of either recognizing Constantine and co-operating with him or revising the Sevres treaty on lines altogether favorable to Turkey. (Note—The Sevres treaty is the one governing peace with Turkey, wherein Greece obtained many concessions. A revision favorable to Turkey would be punishment to Greece for recalling the exiled king.)

In this event, the entente could at best be able to conclude peace with Turkey, not as a victor to the conquered, but on equal terms.

JAPANESE HARVARD MAN TO WED AMERICAN GIRL

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—"We Japanese are small, but we're very active," is what Fred T. Horinchi, wealthy Japanese Harvard student, told Miss Emilie F. Johnson, his fiancée, after their first meeting, according to his mother, Mrs. William Johnson.

"And I agreed with him, for he proved his activity in voting my daughter," continued Mrs. Johnson, who declared Horinchi to be a "scholar and a gentleman."

"We have not set a date for the wedding, which has my approval. It will be performed in the Congregational Church."

Miss Johnson, the bride-to-be, admitted she fell in love with Horinchi after their first meeting. She says she found him every inch a man, although he is small in stature. It will give her the greatest pleasure to go to Japan with her fiancée and meet his mother, who, she understands, is anxious to meet her son's wife-to-be.

RABBIT DEFEATS DOG IN RAPID-FIRE FIGHT

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 21.—A rabbit that fought a dog, cutting its face and sides and tearing one ear, is vouchered for by Harry Pierce, a foreman at the railroad shops here, and an ardent sportsman. Pierce declares he was hunting near the city when he saw a rabbit enter a clump of bushes.

He fired into the undergrowth once, and the dog entered to bring back the carcass. A rumble ensued and the dog retreated, howling and badly damaged. The rabbit had disappeared.

INSISTS FRANCE FIX TOTAL INDEMNITIES

Lloyd George Says He Will Aid Collection if Program is Made Definite.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—"If France will consent to fix the total indemnity required from Germany, it is not impossible that Germany will pay."

"I will be the first to lay my two fists on the table alongside those of the French premier to compel the payment."

Premier Lloyd George of England is thus quoted in an interview obtained by the London correspondent of the Petit Parisien.

The question of fixing definitely the indemnity desired from Germany has been the subject of many exchanges between France and England. The former has been in favor of a sliding scale, to be increased as Germany's productivity grows, while England has favored a fixed amount to facilitate Europe's getting down to a definite economic restoration basis.
